

The Devoted Writer syllabus with Cynthia Morris

Our curriculum is simple but rich. I offer daily visual and written prompts. Alongside our daily practice, I offer a series of my best exercises for writers. My illustrated Writual Blessings offer inspiration throughout. All this gives you the opportunity to dive into your writing life like you never have before. This course is designed to help you develop a writing practice you can sustain over time. You will love this new relationship with your writing and writing projects. We're going from dread and avoidance to love and devotion in one month.

All lessons are emailed to students. You can download and use the lessons anytime. Interaction and coaching make our private online classroom a safe and engaging place to develop your writing habit, your way.

Alongside the daily prompts, I offer these lessons for you to adopt and adapt to suit you:

Develop a Writual

How to free-write

Reflection process

The timer is your best friend

Why we don't share our writing

Free yourself from the editor

Choose your next writing project

Using prompts to get started

Mindmap to generate writing prompts

Personal journaling or project writing

Become an apprentice writer

Befriend your inner critic

Align with your inner champion

Tap your values

Delve deeper into your values

Connecting values, themes and stories

Process your writing

Project management is time management

Devote yourself to your writing life

Full information about the class can be found at TheDevotedWriter.com