

THE DEVOTED

with CYNTHIA MORRIS

The Devoted Writer syllabus with Cynthia Morris

Dive into your writing life like never before. You will love this new relationship with your writing and writing projects. The Devoted Writer will help you develop a writing practice you can sustain over time. You'll go from dread and avoidance to love and devotion this summer.

Our curriculum is simple but rich. I offer daily visual and written prompts that guide your writing for at least 15 minutes each day. You may use your own prompts or let mine lead the adventure.

Alongside our daily practice, you receive a series of my best exercises for writers to establish a solid habit. My illustrated Writual Blessings offer colorful inspiration throughout our writing salon.

All lessons are emailed to students. You can download and use the lessons anytime. A pdf manual of the lessons and prompts will be given upon graduation. Interaction and coaching make our private online classroom a safe and engaging place to develop your writing habit, your way.

Carefully curated and programmed lessons to help you solidify an intentional and devoted writing practice. Among our lessons:

Develop a Writual - a steady practice to drop into writing easily

Free-write everything and never be blocked again

Reflection process to turbo your writing sessions

The timer is your best friend

Design a safe space for your freedom - why we don't share our writing

Free yourself from your editor and finally get your words out

Choose your next writing project

Use prompts to get started quickly

Mindmap to generate your own writing prompts

Personal journaling or project writing - what's right, when?

Become an apprentice writer and embrace imperfection

Befriend your inner critic and no longer be a victim of its woes

Align with your inner champion

Identify your values

Connect your values, themes and stories

Read and review your writing on a monthly basis

Project management is time management

Devote yourself to your writing life
